RESEARCH, INNOVATION & COMMERCIALIZATION

Social Innovation Movement (SIM), a non-profit organisation launched the Intergenerational (INTER-GEN) Community Project in Kampung Pukak, Kiulu, Tuaran. Through a Community-Based Approach model, INTERGEN aims to create communal resiliency among vulnerable third-age communities at Kampung Pukak and Kampung Timug in Sabah along with Miri in Sarawak. This project funded by Yayasan Hasanah.

Community-based training (CBT) will be conducted by NBUC and an invited facilitator. This CBT will focus on rural areas and involve local communities in selected areas. The focus of the area that will be set is a location that has tourism potential but receives less promotion and publicity. The objective of the programme is to equip community hosts with good knowledge and skills in tourism management.

Food Research: Farm to Fork. Develop healthy foods using underutilized resources. Seaweeds used to create fake meat look more like real meat, more realistic texture, and becomes brown as it cooks
